Flying Stars

It is one of the most effective methods to design and correct space. It is equally effective in its application to homes offices or any other business structures.

Colors, designs, shapes of furniture, themes related to lifestyle or activity in a given premise can be decided by this method. Aligning doors, making structural changes or any other major renovations must consider the flying stars of the structure.

It is the effect of stars on space. This system applies the dynamics of the time factor on living space.

At times we experience that a property may suddenly become prosperous or go down hill with no particular reason to cause the change. The study involves deep analysis of the flying star charts and their application to make better use of a premise as to maximise its benefits.
