Feng Shui and Crystals

Crystals are one of the most popular of cure in Fengshui. They are available in different shapes, sizes and forms for use.

The quartz crystals are considered sacred. The quartz crystal is a source of white light energy. The strength of the crystal lies in its structure and clarity.

Crystal is both a receiver and a transmitter of energy. This attribute makes it fit for healing purposes.

Quartz crystals have been used for healing since ages. They are used in different shapes and sizes to attract the power of light. These crystals contained mystical qualities. They are also considered as the sacred symbols of light and are believed to keep away negativity. Apart from healing, they are also used for transforming the mind state, inspire, induce intuitive insight, guard against negative vibrations, and smoothen the Aura.

Crystals are used as jewelry, in stone form, tumbled or in their natural state. They are available in crude, polished or even in beautiful faceted forms.

Placing it on the appropriate spot on your body for healing purposes

Holding a crystal while meditating

Placing them on your chakras(The seven invisible circles of energy in the human body starting from the base of the spine to the top of the head) to heal and balance

Keeping them in homes or offices to heal and energize space

How to care for your Crystals

When you first buy your crystal, you need to cleanse it of all negative energies and vibrations that it may have picked by the handling of several people and places it may have gone through.

Some crystals and stones are fragile and need to be handled with care.

For cleansing, you can hold them under gently running water. The healing properties of crystals will be greatly enhanced by regular cleansing.

You can also cleanse crystals by leaving them out in a safe place under moonlight preferably a full moon night.

You can place crystals in a sieve and hold incense under them for a while for clearing negativity.

Programme a crystal by holding it in your hand and affirming what you want it to do; you could
